STEPPING STONES TO BETTER UNDERSTANDING

Presented by
The Class of '59

Cumberland Valley
High School

Thomas R. Clugston

We, the class of 1959, consider it an honor to dedicate this Argus to Thomas A. Clugston who, in one short year, has proven his high regard for us as individuals. As supervising principal, he is confronted with many problems requiring diplomatic, sincere, and beneficial solutions. He conducts these affairs with discretion and logic.

His most important obligation is to meet the needs of the 3000 members of our school system. We pay tribute for the successful manner in which he fulfills this duty. Through these accomplishments, Mr. Clugston commands the respect and admiration of C. V. H. S.

Foreword

Cumberland Valley High School represents tor us, the class of 1959, the culmination of our educational progress. We have seen here the scholarly aspects of life, in a youthful atmosphere, coupled with our development of a society by which to be accepted, rejected, or to discard as individuals.

To us, it has been the final and least accessible stepping stone in a creek, one which we have finally attained, and when we gain it, we realize that now we face a more difficult task — that of crossing the river life. But with the assimilation of honesty and sportsmanship, we have enabled ourselves to evaluate situations with relative accuracy, retaining a standard of truth in introspect. When we created this introspective honesty, we became the masters of our theme for this Argus — understanding.

Should we live as indicated by this designed code, as we well may, our lives in the future will undoubtedly present themselves with joys and disappointments comparable to those we have thus encountered. For this reason, Cumberland Valley, to date, is the key to the patteri of life we have adopted — a combination of honesty, justice, anc tolerance — a stepping stone to better understanding.

ADMINISTRATION AND FACULTY

It is a distinct pleasure to extend my congratulations to the graduating class of 1959.

You have performed your tasks in such an admirable manner that you have added much to the stature of the Cumberland Valley High School. In your endeavor to become enlightened citizens you have also obtained qualities of Honesty, Justice, Friendliness, and Helpfulness. With all these assets we expect to hear many good reports about you. Your many contributions have helped place our school in a position of high esteem. A position which we must maintain!

Please accept our best wishes and hope that all your undertakings will be successful and longlasting.

Thomas A. Clugston

Thomas A. Clugston
Supervising Principal

Dear Seniors, Class of 1959:

You have finished an important chapter in your lives. We trust that the days spent in C.V.H.S. will be remembered with pleasant thoughts and fond memories.

We shall continue to be interested in your welfare and success. Call on us whenever there is a service which we can render. A cordial welcome is extended to visit us anytime. It will always be your school.

Your class will be remembered for many excellent contributions to the spirit and life of C.V. The records will list you as members of the fifth class, the largest group to be graduated from C.V.

Congratulations and very best wishes.

Cumberland Valley Boy Wins Baby Beef Championship

1959 Pennsylvania Farm Show Champion baby beef was raised by 14 year old Jack Gensler. Jack was thrilled by the honor of coping the grand championship but also sad at the prospect of the acution of his 1,080 pound pet. Since November, 1957, Jack and "Scottie" have been close friends. This farm lad has gained some money but is probably richer in experience and honor as a result of his admirable work.

Jr. Homemaking Club

Jr. HOMEMAKING CLUB OFFICERS — President — Linda Nickolson, Vice-President — Sue Bucher, Secretary — Joan Shepler, Treasurer — Sandy Monroe.

This club is open to any Junior High School girl, who shows an active interest in furthering her skills in handwork and crafts. The club provides an opportunity to develop special interests that can not be obtained during the regularly scheduled homemaking classes. Social periods are provided to develop friendships between grades and classes of students.

Junior Science Club

The Junior Science Club meets in the Chemistry Lab every Thursday. During this time the members work on projects and any phase of science which is of interest to them. Whenever possible field trips are taken to places of interest.

This group meets every Thursday in room 122 — the interests are so varied, that no particular field of science is emphasized. Meeting periods are spent working on science projects, becoming familiar with correct usage and operation of laboratory equipment, and making field trips to places of scientific interest.

Beginners Science Club

The Junior F.B.B. is an organization which puts emphases on football, basketball and baseball. It does, however, concern all sports in the school. Its advisor is Mr. McMullen. It is a popular club in the junior high, and its membership is large.

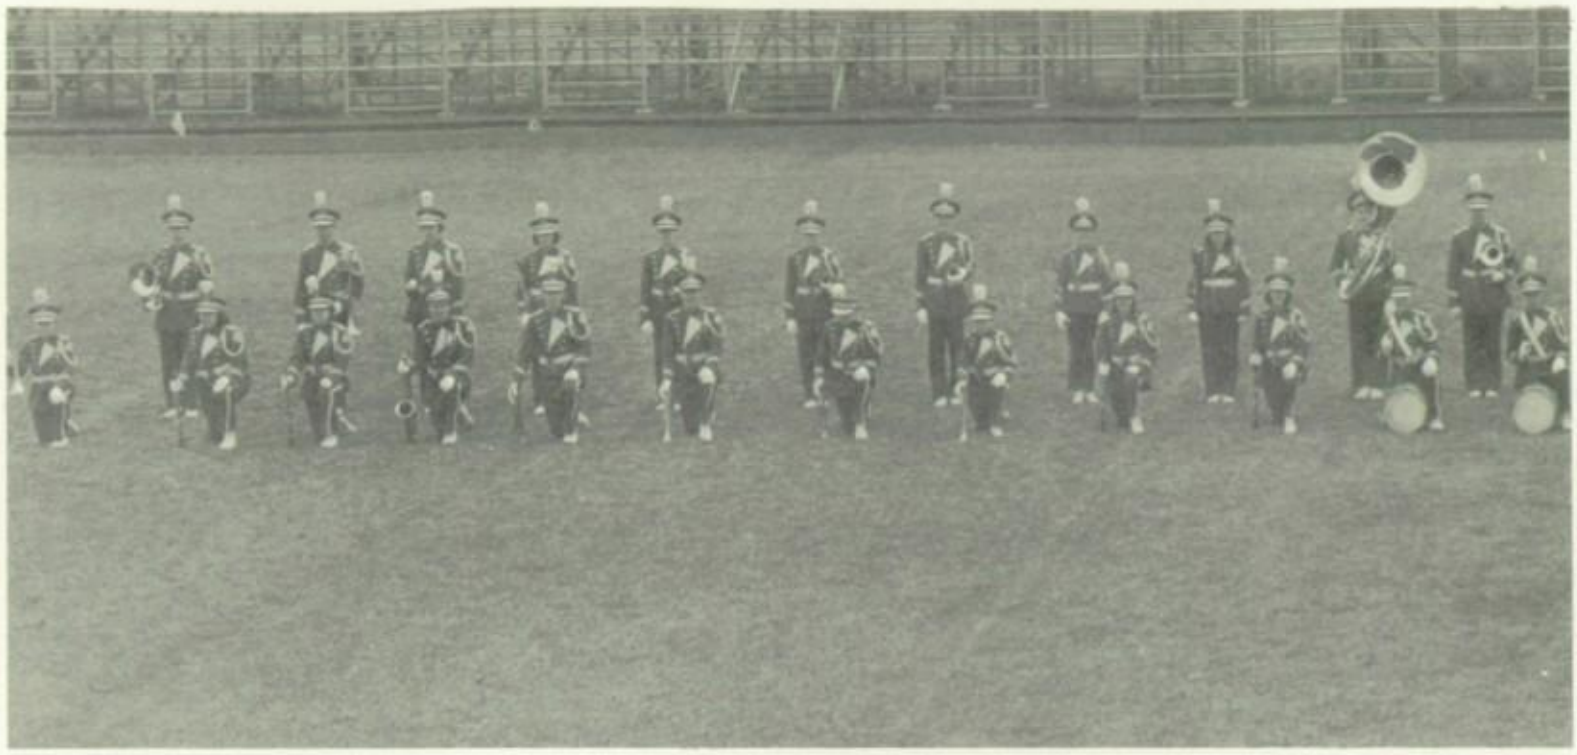
MUSIC

C V "SUPERIOR" BAND



Four whistles — a flash of red — a good solid down beat — and you can be sure C.V.'s Marching Band is around.

"Be A Band Booster" was a popular phrase as football season got under way. The C.V. Marching Band participated at all football games, and presented six entirely different half-time shows. The band was under the direction of DeWitt P. Zuse, assisted by James D. Tyson and under the capable leadership of Miss Karyl Packer.

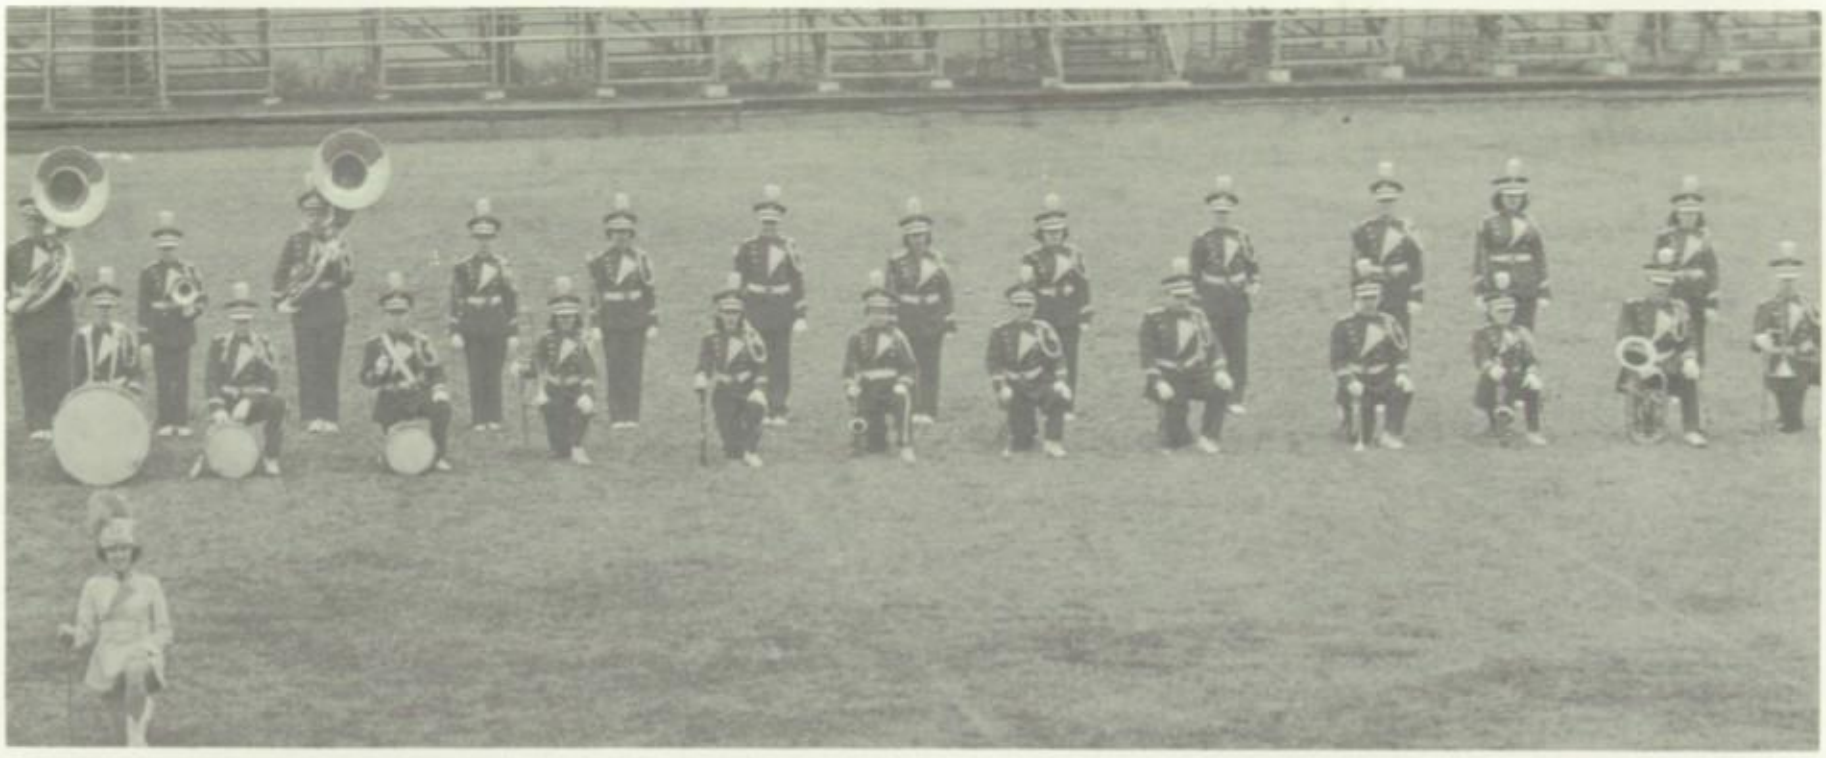
The band marched in three Halloween parades including the Hanover Competition in which they placed third among twenty-three other participating bands.

The Harrisburg Band Parade is an annual competition parade held in December. Both Band and C-Vettes marched away with Superior Ratings — the highest rating attainable. A trophy for the band with the highest number of points, won by C.D. was missed by C.V. by just four-tenths of a point.

The Marching Band also received an invitation to the Pennsylvania Gubernatorial Inaugural Parade, however this parade was cancelled due to rain and snow.

A candy drive and "marchigras" were two very profitable money raisers held during the year.

Last but by no means least, was the Virginia Apple Blossom Parade which was anxiously awaited by all Band personnel. It is a two day trip with lots of marching and lots of fun — the big event for C.V.'s Marching Band.



Mr. Zuse, Director; Mr. Tyson, Assistant Director.

All men are created equal, but . . .

The high flying Eagles came through in fine style again this year and came up with a very successful season. The team was called, by many, "a cinderella squad." It had a lack of returning talent and was plagued by injuries from the start. Despite these things the determination of the squad brought it through. We quote a neighboring coach when we say, "The team is the scrappiest bunch of boys around." The Eagles defeated such formidable opponents as Hummelstown, Boiling Springs, and Susquehanna. It was for the team and everyone connected with it a year to be remembered.

In Memoriam

A STURDY LAD

A sturdy lad was fallen in our midst,
And left us sad, bereft of any joy.
Though he was but by fourteen summers blest,
The shades are drawn about our noble boy.

The sorrow and the loss 'tis ours to feel
Is very hard for us to contemplate;
But then the gain to mighty Heaven's meal
In fullest measure seems to compensate.

Through faith we see beyond the darkest shades
To find him bright and happy by God's side;
And then the pain of all bereavement fades
To know that all these joys to him betide.

Jean Ann Slaybaugh

PRIDE OF THE HEARTS OF HER PEOPLE

Pride of the hearts of her people,
"Jean Ann," so sweet and so frail,
Dropped, like the flower from earth's bosom,
And rooted, where life cannot fail.

She's gone on a wonderful journey
To a land, that is fairer than day.
She's rested this life's weary burdens;
The Angels have bourne her away.

A spirit, so good and so patient,
Like sweetest of flowers perfume,
Must have come, like an Angel, among us,
To be called unto heaven to bloom.

Pride of the hearts of her people,
"Jean Ann"! She waits over there,
Looking this way to her loved ones,
Looking from heaven, so fair.
